Video Case Study #28

Schneider Electric Video Mailer

Schneider Electric is a leading supplier of digital energy solutions that make homes “smart.” It sells its technologies through construction firms and general contractors. When our distributor asked us about an innovative technology to upgrade Schneider’s B2B mailing pieces, we immediately recommended our patented Video Brochures & Mailers. This slick Video Brochure includes our 5” video screen and a 90 second video highlighting Schneider’s unique capabilities and technologies. There is no better tool for new business development: Video Mailers break through the clutter to deliver a powerful marketing message. Given the tight lead time on this project, we produced this product right here in the USA. When your end users need an innovative communication tool, be sure you’re presenting a patented Video Brochure from CleggPromo.
